ANSA – ROME, JUN 23

Doctors at the Siena Hospital treating Alex Zanardi said Tuesday that the paralympic champion's condition remains stable after his fourth night in intensive care following a road accident on his handbike last week. Although this seen as an encouraging sign, doctors have postponed a decision about gradually bringing the 53 –years –old out of a medically induced coma. The four-time Paralympic champion and former Formula One driver suffered serious head injuries in Friday's collision with a lorry.

HEMINGWAY – A farewell to arms

We had a fine life. We lived through the months of January and February and the winter was very fine and we were happy. There had been short thaws when the wind blew warm and the snow softened and the air felt like spring, but always the clear hard cold had come again and the winter had returned. In March came the first break in the winter. In the night it started raining. It rained on all the morning and turned the snow to slush and made the mountain-side dismal.

MARK TWAIN – The adventures of Huckleberry Finn

The adventures of Huckleberry Finn is the story of a boy who never gave in fully to anybody's discipline. Huck is instinctive, wild and ready to lie, to use profanity and even to steal. His inner world is full of spiritual presence and meaning, which he conveys by natural signs and preternatural omens and taboos. When, for example, he hears about Aladdin's magic lamp, he seriously tries to rouse a genie himself. He has been adopted by the by the Widow Douglas, washed, dressed in clean clothes and sent to school, but he is not happy.
